Measurement Matters!

Shannon Clarke, MPH Healthy Communities Planner Capital Regional District

Why does it matter?

- •Because we manage what we measure!
- •If we don't measure the right things, or if we measure the right things in the wrong way, we will end up managing the wrong things...
- •How will we know if we are achieving our goals if we aren't measuring our progress?

What are we doing about it?

Regional Outcomes Monitoring (ROM) Collaborative

Capital Regional District	Eldercare Foundation
Island Health	Horner Foundation
First Nations Health Authority	Children's Health Foundation
University of Victoria	United Way of Greater Victoria
Community Social Planning Council	Inter-Cultural Association

What is the ROM Collaborative measuring?

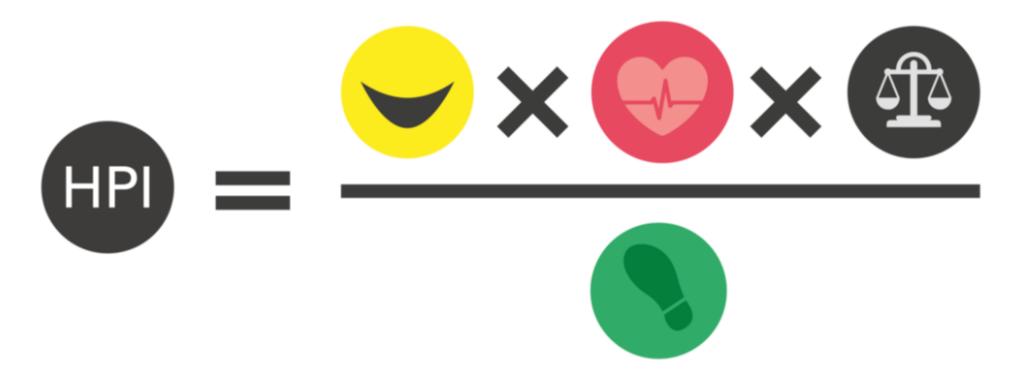

Economic Security	Inclusive, Connected Communities
Food Security	Healthy & Safe Environments
Attainable & Appropriate Housing	Accessible Human Services
Thriving Children & Youth	Connection to Arts & Culture
Lifelong Learning	Recreation & Active Living

ROM Collaborative's Process...

- •Identify desired regional outcomes
- •Develop a robust set of indicators related to each outcome
- Identify data sources for each indicator & gaps where data does not exist
- •Develop a comprehensive data warehouse that can be shared with community & used to inform planning & decision-making

So how might we measure our progress towards 'One Planet' living in the capital region?

Happy Planet Index

Wellbeing x Life expectancy x Inequality of outcomes Ecological footprint

In a nutshell...

Life quality attained per unit of ecological footprint

Thank you!
